DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 72-90, drawn to a circuit comprising at least one circuit element wherein at least one circuit element comprises a nucleic acid template, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.
  - II. Claims 91-108, drawn to a method of making a circuit, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case a circuit as claimed in Group I may be made using a different method of constructing a circuit which comprises nucleic acid using chemical deposition of different conductive substances onto a network of nucleic acid fixed onto a substrate. Since the circuit of group I may be constructed or made using a method that is separate and distinct from the method of group II, in order to search the separate inventions of Groups I and II would require separate searches of the prior art. In order to search the circuit of group I requires a search of the prior art directed specifically to any type of nucleic acid circuit, a search which would not necessarily include prior art directed to the method of group II. Therefore because separate searches of the prior art are required, which are not co-extensive with each other, it would pose an undue burden on the examiner to require a search of both inventions together.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stephanie K. Mummert whose telephone number is 571-272-8503. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F, 8:30-5.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gary Benzion can be reached on 571-272-0782. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
